Neopost Introduces the IJ Dynamic Scale

Mailing breakthrough designed to deliver increased performance, reliability and cost savings

Neopost, the worldwide provider of mailing, addressing, document handling and logistics systems, introduces the IJ Dynamic Scale (IJDS) for the IJ65, IJ75 and IJ85 Series Mailing Machines. Designed to make mid to high volume mailrooms more productive, the IJDS is an intelligent, in-motion weighing system that enables customers to weigh large mixed batches of mail and calculate exact postage at speeds up to 130 letters per minute.

The IJDS offers an array of new functions and features, including the ability to automatically adjust to different mail formats and weights without interruption. The advanced 3D sensing feature determines length, width and thickness of each mail piece to ensure the correct postage is applied, thereby providing complete accuracy and reducing postage waste.

“The IJDS provides a level of performance and functionality previously unavailable in this market segment,” explains Chris Giles, product manager for mailing systems at Neopost. Incredibly simple to use, the IJDS delivers the highest levels of performance and reliability. The self-aligning feed system eliminates skew, delivering consistently crisp imprints, and the patented feed guides ensure each item is controlled while its weight is precisely and quickly measured.

The modular design of the IJDS allows for customized upgrades to meet customers’ specific growing and changing needs. Its sleek clear-top design allows easy access to the mail path with no clips, levers or clamps.

The IJDS is available through Neopost’s network of more than 150 branch offices and dealer locations throughout North America. For sales information, call the customer hotline at 1-888-Neopost (636-7678), or visit www.neopostinc.com.
