Neopost Announces New Folder/Inserter System for Increased Office Efficiency

Provides the ideal office mailing solution

Neopost, the worldwide provider of mailing, addressing, document handling and mail management systems, introduces its new SI 62 folder/inserter. Designed for the office environment, the SI 62 is capable of inserting up to 15,000 mail pieces per month, putting it at the top of its class in terms of speed, quality and reliability.

Due to its patented Load 'N Go[®] feature, anyone in the office can just load the material into the SI 62, touch the button and go. The SI 62 allows users to automate all types of mailings, including invoices, statements, checks and letters. Because the SI 62 collates and nests all pages before folding, the user is always assured of the most professional looking documents possible.

Flexible enough to handle a wide range of application needs, Neopost's SI 62 is available in three different configurations. The SI 62 Starter comes standard with one full size multi-functional FlexFeed[™] station and one half-size station for documents up to 6" in length. The SI 62 Standard includes two full size multi-functional FlexFeed[™] stations, which handles documents from 3.5-14" in length. The SI 62 Professional provides two full size multi-functional FlexFeed[™] stations and one half-size station for documents up to 6".
